TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF CLARKSVILLE:

I herewith submit the annual report of the superintendent of schools.

It seemed wiser to run two schools instead of crowding so many pupils into the Young School so the West School was repaired and redecorated for use this year. The enrollment at the Young School is, however, nearly as large as that of the combined schools last year.

The small number of tardinesses at the Young School last year is to be commended. The attendance (92%) was a little low. Absence is often unavoidable, but tardiness can usually be prevented.

Hot lunches are again being enjoyed by the pupils. The Young School uses an oil stove. At the West School a rack has been fitted to the jacketed heater so that food can be prepared quite satisfactorily. We greatly appreciate the hearty support given by the townspeople to the two schools in their efforts to raise funds for the lunches.

SUPERVISORY UNION NO. 7

As a result of legislative action the State Board of Education is compelled to eliminate ten superintendents of school in two years. Six have already been eliminated. This has made necessary a new grouping of school districts into supervisory unions. Union No. 7 now consists of Clarksville, Colebrook Special, Colebrook Town, Columbia, Pittsburg, and Stewartstown. The following statistics give an idea of the size of the union.

School District	No. of School	No. of Pupils	No. of Teachers
Clarksville	2	36	2
Colebrook Special	2	305	14
Colebrook Town	7	127	7
Columbia	5	116	6
Pittsburg	3	155	8
Stewartstown	6	174	8
Total	25	913	45

The former Colebrook union (Colebrook, Columbia, Errol, Wentworth Location) had last year 15 schools, 635 pupils, and 31 teachers. The Pittsburg union had 10 schools, 361 pupils and 17 teachers. The Colebrook superintendent, who now serves the new union, had, therefore, nearly a 50 per cent increase in number of pupils and teachers to supervise and 66 2-3% increase in number of schools to be visited. The union extends from South Columbia to Connecticut Lake, a distance of about 35 miles. Twenty-one of the school are rural schools, a fact which means many miles of travel. Some of them are on back roads which are not open to an automobile in the winter. Therefore travel consumes much time.

The above facts indicate clearly that the superintendent can not visit any one school as frequently as could be done under former conditions. The state has saved some money by reducing the number of superintendents, but supervision in the individual school districts has been very much diluted. Moreover several towns have lost a resident superintendent.

A superintendent can not visit schools every day because administrative duties must also be performed. He must attend to correspondence, reports, bills, pay-rolls, repairs, supplies, transportation, etc. There are teachers' meetings, conferences, school board meetings, and interviews with parents, salesmen, and others. Under these circumstances a reasonable schedule would allow a visit to each school in the revised union about every three weeks. Unfavorable travelling conditions in winter, or an unusual increase in administrative duties (as making out the annual reports) will make such a schedule impossible. It is an open question whether economy is more important than service. But the situation is here and we shall do the best we can to attend to all the many duties as quickly as possible. A clerk in the office to perform all the routine tasks will free the superintendent for visits to the schools. A clerk has been employed this winter, under the C. W. A., for 24—30 hours a week. This has been a very great help.

NOTES ON THE BUDGET

The increase in the amount for "Other Expenses of Instruction" is due to the proposal to purchase supplementary reading books. Children learn to read by reading many books. Our supply is limited. Therefore we really should furnish several single copies of the attractive books that are now published.

The price of wood is going up so more money will be needed for fuel.

There is a possibility of ten pupils attending high school next year as compared with seven this year. The elementary tuition rate at Pittsburg has been set for this year at the average per pupil cost for 1932-33 in Pittsburg, $53.21.

I wish to express my appreciation of the cordial cooperation of all those with whom I have worked this year.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED W. SMITH,

Superintendent of Schools.

TO THE SCHOOL BOARD OF CLARKSVILLE:

I herewith submit the annual report of the superintendent of schools.

It seemed wiser to run two schools instead of crowding so many pupils into the Young School so the West School was repaired and redecorated for use this year. The enrollment at the Young School is, however, nearly as large as that of the combined schools last year.

The small number of tardinesses at the Young School last year is to be commended. The attendance (92%) was a little low. Absence is often unavoidable, but tardiness can usually be prevented.

Hot lunches are again being enjoyed by the pupils. The Young School uses an oil stove. At the West School a rack has been fitted to the jacketed heater so that food can be prepared quite satisfactorily. We greatly appreciate the hearty support given by the townspeople to the two schools in their efforts to raise funds for the lunches.

SUPERVISORY UNION NO. 7

As a result of legislative action the State Board of Education is compelled to eliminate ten superintendents of school in two years. Six have already been eliminated. This has made necessary a new grouping of school districts into supervisory unions. Union No. 7 now consists of Clarksville, Colebrook Special, Colebrook Town, Columbia, Pittsburg, and Stewartstown. The following statistics give an idea of the size of the union.

School District	No. of School	No. of Pupils	No. of Teachers
Clarksville	2	36	2
Colebrook Special	2	305	14
Colebrook Town	7	127	7
Columbia	5	116	6
Pittsburg	3	155	8
Stewartstown	6	174	8
Total	25	913	45

The former Colebrook union (Colebrook, Columbia, Errol, Wentworth Location) had last year 15 schools, 635 pupils, and 31 teachers. The Pittsburg union had 10 schools, 361 pupils and 17 teachers. The Colebrook superintendent, who now serves the new union, had, therefore, nearly a 50 per cent increase in number of pupils and teachers to supervise and 66 2-3% increase in number of schools to be visited. The union extends from South Columbia to Connecticut Lake, a distance of about 35 miles. Twenty-one of the school are rural schools, a fact which means many miles of travel. Some of them are on back roads which are not open to an automobile in the winter. Therefore travel consumes much time.

The above facts indicate clearly that the superintendent can not visit any one school as frequently as could be done under former conditions. The state has saved some money by reducing the number of superintendents, but supervision in the individual school districts has been very much diluted. Moreover several towns have lost a resident superintendent.

A superintendent can not visit schools every day because administrative duties must also be performed. He must attend to correspondence, reports, bills, pay-rolls, repairs, supplies, transportation, etc. There are teachers' meetings, conferences, school board meetings, and interviews with parents, salesmen, and others. Under these circumstances a reasonable schedule would allow a visit to each school in the revised union about every three weeks. Unfavorable travelling conditions in winter, or an unusual increase in administrative duties (as making out the annual reports) will make such a schedule impossible. It is an open question whether economy is more important than service. But the situation is here and we shall do the best we can to attend to all the many duties as quickly as possible. A clerk in the office to perform all the routine tasks will free the superintendent for visits to the schools. A clerk has been employed this winter, under the C. W. A., for 24—30 hours a week. This has been a very great help.

NOTES ON THE BUDGET

The increase in the amount for "Other Expenses of Instruction" is due to the proposal to purchase supplementary reading books. Children learn to read by reading many books. Our supply is limited. Therefore we really should furnish several single copies of the attractive books that are now published.

The price of wood is going up so more money will be needed for fuel.

There is a possibility of ten pupils attending high school next year as compared with seven this year. The elementary tuition rate at Pittsburg has been set for this year at the average per pupil cost for 1932-33 in Pittsburg, $53.21.

I wish to express my appreciation of the cordial cooperation of all those with whom I have worked this year.

Respectfully submitted,

ALFRED W. SMITH,

Superintendent of Schools.
